Cook To Head Work Offered at West Texas

DR. H. L. COOK

First of two new department heads to be named at West Texas State College for the 1955-56 session has been announced by President James P. Cornette. Dr. H. L. Cook, head of the mathematics department at Little Rock, Ark., Junior College, has been appointed to a similar position at WT.

A new chairman of the School of Business and Public Administration, to succeed retiring Dr. Lee L. Johnson, is yet to be named by Dr. Cornette.

Dr. Cook, who assumes duties at WT in September, has been at Little Rock Junior College since 1952, having gone there from the Guided Missile Research Center, Huntsville, Ala., where he was a research mathematician.

A lecturer on guided missiles, rockets and space travel, Dr. Cook is a graduate of the Montvallo, Ala., High School. He earned his B.S. degree at Stephen F. Austin State College and his M.S. degree at Texas A&M. He holds the Ph.D. from Georgia Peabody College for Teachers.

For three years he has been school principal at Corrigan, Tex., and was head of the mathematics division, secondary unit, at Edinburg, Tex., for two years. In 1940, Dr. Cook became instructor in mathematics at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn; in 1942, he became assistant chief industrial engineer at the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp., Atlanta. From 1945 until 1950, Dr. Cook was assistant professor of mathematics at the Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta.

Dr. Cook is married and has one son, 7. Other members of the WT mathematics department are C. A. Murray, professor, and Cecil Briggs and J. L. Gilmore, assistant professors.

Grandma Moses Picture Is on Display Here

"The Red Feather," a painting by Grandma Moses, will be on exhibit in the library of WTSC from Wednesday, July 6, until Saturday afternoon. The picture will hang in the Reference room. This is the room to the north as you enter the main floor. The picture was originally scheduled to arrive Saturday, but it comes to us on Wednesday and will be exhibited until Saturday.

The reference room is air-conditioned and there are no steps to climb. It is hoped that everyone in Canyon will take advantage of this opportunity to see an original painting by an artist whom professional critics have given high praise. A Zurich critic speaks of her "magic spontaneity—completely unsentimental, and as untouched as nature herself—a phenomenon of our times."

Paris Arts votes "thanks to Grandma Moses for the happiness she shows us." Vienna-born Otto Kallir flatly insists that Grandma is "one of the very great painters in America today." Very few have Grandma's luminosity of color, and almost none can match her in creating an illusion of deep space. It is said that any artist would be proud of her skies. She was originally classed as a primitive but Kallir believes the word primitive does not apply to her. He calls her a "natural" or thinks "self-taught" a better word.

Her paintings have been in more than 160 U. S. exhibitions, and in five one man shows abroad. She is represented in nine American museums and hers is the only American picture hanging in the Paris Museum of Modern Art.

The picture is loaned to Canyon through the kindness of the Mary E. Bivins Memorial Library of Amarillo. It will hang in the library there for two weeks following their opening Sunday, July 10.

Lions Carnival For Playground Equipment Funds

Have you ever wanted to see a banker soaked? You'll have a chance to see this very thing this week-end when the Lions Club Carnival is conducted Friday and Saturday evenings from 4 until 10. The carnival will be situated on the east side of the square and the money taken at it will go for the purchase of playground equipment for the new school building.

George Blackwell, one of the Lions in charge of getting the carnival prepared to give the public the most for their money, said that one of the men on the dunking board is to be Don Standley. This means that someone is going to get a chance to soak a banker, it may be you. Leaflets have been distributed letting the public know some of the things that will be offered in the way of entertainment at the carnival.

There is no admission charge to get into the carnival grounds. On the midway you'll find such attractions as side shows, popcorn, music, candy, homemade ice cream, prizes and rides. Blackwell said one of the main attractions for the kiddies would be rides on Clark Jarnagin's ponies. There will be circus barkers on the midway to add a real circus flavor to the occasion. You'll enjoy local people taking on the role of circus entertainers, barkers, and general flunkies.

Lions Club members are planning the circus to provide two great evenings of entertainment for the public. In enjoying the fun the people will also be helping to purchase the playground equipment needed for the new elementary school. This equipment is the primary object of the carnival.

Many Old Time Exes Will Be at Reunion at West Texas State Exes

More than 300 early ex-students of West Texas State College are expected here Saturday, when an "Old Timers Reunion" for students of 1910 to 1915 is held in the Student Union Building.

It will be a day of recalling "the old days at college," and highlighting the planned program will be a period for reminiscing. All persons who attended the college during its first five years are invited to attend, even though they have not received a written invitation, according to Milton (Buff) Morris, executive secretary of the WT Ex-Students Association.

"We don't have the names of all who attended West Texas," Morris said, "and we want all exes to know they will be welcome. We'd like to invite also the old-timers of the region, whether they attended WT or not, and of course, any ex-student of any year is welcome."

Persons from more than 20 Panhandle towns have written that they will attend, and many from other cities of Texas and in other states are due to arrive late Friday. Among the old timers coming are Dr. B. A. Stafford, Rolling Fork, Miss., and Mrs. S. G. (Mamie Conner) Bradford, Pasadena, Calif., member of the first graduating class. Two campus dormitories bear the names of their fathers.

An original Grandma Moses painting, "The Red Feather," will be on display during the day for visitors in the WT library, and also planned for display in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum will be a selection of minerals and rocks from the collection of John J. Bugg, early ex-student from Florence, Ariz. Bugg plans to attend the reunion.

Others coming include Miss Eula Tucker, Gallup, N. M.; Mrs. Flossie Cone Rippy, Denver; S. J. Woodruff, Danville, Ill.; Mrs. Fannie Atkinson Hardgrave, Albuquerque; Col. and Mrs. Frank M. Locke, San Antonio; Bowen Pope, Hamlin; Jack Rattikin, Ft. Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan C. Baucum, Portland, Tex.

Too Much Work to Do, and Not Enough Help to Do It Is the Cause

The municipal park in the south-east part of town will not be dedicated until Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. It was simply impossible to get enough workmen on the job to finish the park in time for Saturday's dedication, as was announced last week.

Mayor Hosea Foster will dedicate the park at 2 o'clock in a brief talk.

The public will be welcomed to attend the meeting but the swimming pool will not be opened for the use of the kids of the community.

Awards of the prizes offered for names to the park will be given, following which there will be an exhibition of swimming and diving at the pool.

The memorial in honor of the war dead arrived Thursday, but has not been placed. No bricklayers were available to do the work of the memorial up to yesterday, and it was not known whether or not the required men could be found for the job. Jack Jennings stated that the dedication of this memorial would depend upon the workmen.

The fence around the pool was not completed this week, and it was feared that it would not be finished in time for the dedication ceremony Sunday afternoon.

Every person who has worked on the park has done his best to complete the job in time for the opening, but there have not been enough hours left in any day to do the job.

As soon as swimmers may enter the pool, they will be notified.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

A Few Observations As The Days Roll By . . .

Texas is about to lose our two cabinet members.

Of course all good Democrats will be happy, claiming all the time that both Mrs. Hobby and Bob Anderson were Republicans to start with.

Us good Democrats, that is, the fanatical Democrats, would rather see the President appoint most any one else to public office than to see him reach into the Democratic ranks and pluck one of the "safe and sound" who had always won the brass of the Democratic party.

R. B. Anderson resigned his post with the navy. At once the cabinet makes in Texas saw him resigning to run for Governor. Mr. Anderson denies this. He is of the opinion that he has seen enough of politics. It is reported that he was drawing a salary of $60,000 per year from his old job in Texas before accepting the one he holds at $20,000. Naturally all good Democrats will throw their 10-gallon hats in the air and declare that he was grossly overpaid by the Waggoner estate in Texas.

That is their business. They were out to hire the best.

Mrs. Hobby has been the target of Democrats for some time. The polio serum botch made it possible for the adverse criticism which has been directed at her head.

The Canyon News holds no brief for Mrs. Hobby. We have known and admired her since she was parliamentarian of the House during the days when the Newsman served as State Representative. She knows her job. Maybe she is to blame for the polio mess; but we are inclined to lay the blame elsewhere. Who knows just who is to blame and why was a mistake made in the vaccine; if there was a mistake.

Mrs. Hobby is big enough to take care of adverse critics. Her husband, the former Governor of Texas, is in poor health. Mrs. Hobby has a big daily newspaper to look after, which in itself is a big enough job. Perhaps the critics of Anderson and Hobby in the ranks of Democrats in Texas will see things in a different light in the years to come.

There is some difference between the appearance of fairness and the intent to be fair.

Few fiscal experts are worried about the small income that many Americans receive.

The death of Silliman Evans Sunday morning in Fort Worth removes another brilliant and capable newspaper man, and a good friend of the Newsman. He had come to Fort Worth from his post in Tennessee to attend the funeral of his former employer, Amon Carter.

Mr. Evans made his first mark as a newspaper man in Texas. It was in this capacity that we knew him best.

When an insurance company was on the rocks, with a large loan from RFC, Jesse Jones induced Silliman to become president of the concern. Here is where we came into the picture.

Mrs. Warwick and Mrs. Clint Small were driving to Austin and slowed down at a dip in the highway filled with water just after a rain. A Buick car loaded with SMU boys and girls came plowing down the highway, paying no attention to traffic, dips, or water. Our light car was hit by the Buick, and the gas tank punctured.

The driver of the big car told the women to get to a service station before the punctured gas tank leaked dry. He gave his name, and full description stating that his car was fully covered.

The women drove on and within a few days returned home in the badly damaged car. The mechanic estimated the cost and the driver of the big car was notified. In a few days here came a kid fresh as an adjuster for the company which carried the insurance, and of which Silliman Evans was president.

This adjuster claimed that the car which the woman was driving was standing still on the pavement, and therefore the company was not liable. He would stick by his claim, so he said. He was firm in rejecting the claim.

A letter to Mr. Evans was followed by a telegram to the fresh adjuster to come to Canyon and settle the claim agreeable to us.

Naturally we have never forgotten this incident and the pleasure of having known such a fair and square man as Silliman Evans.

A balanced budget? Whoever heard of such an animal?

It is a good thing to talk about, but instead of balancing the budget, our government prefers to run in debt.

We have never held to the theory that it was a good thing to run the federal government in the red. Yet we hear every few days that some member of Congress sagely admits that the government cannot be operated upon a budget.

Since every organization and government in the world operates under a budget, there are certainly men in Washington smart enough to operate the government on a balanced budget.

When you go on a vacation trip in your automobile, remember that death takes no holidays.

There is no intolerance to equal that of the religious fanatic who knows he is right.

The only justification for unions is the arrogance of employers.

Not many things are more ridiculous than a civic leader without followers.

Money, for some reason, seems to inject ice into the blood stream of generous men.

It's a tough world — very few people sympathize with those who suffer from hay-fever.

The battle raged in some sections of the nation. The television boys are promoting "subscription" television sets. Just drop a quarter in the slot and you will get the program.

We hear that big opera companies and new movies, as well as Broadway hits may be included in the programs.

In spite of the heavy loss sustained by both the radios, and the high cost of advertising on t. v. the public must be sold on the "subscription" idea.

Our Own Financial Hint: Watch agriculture. Unless the farmers have a good year in 1955 there will be a slackening of business in 1956.

A divorce, very often, is nothing but judicial recognition that a marriage has been wrecked.

About the time that we have reached the pinnacle of prices, along comes some kind of a demand which soaring the trap for increased prices.

Car owners will be assessed an additional amount; now comes the steel workers to further push up the price; and so on down the line.

It takes only a small idea to occupy some minds to the exclusion of everything else.

We are against too much government but, between too little and too much, we prefer too much.

It is always interesting to hear a man, who has been lucky in making money, explain his luck.

There is no reason in the world why an automobile driver cannot exhibit courtesy on the highways.

Driving courteously, and exhibiting good manners, will do more to cut highway fatalities than the traffic regulations.

Men have always maintained that the feminine sex is the vain sex. So, we give you this little item for what it is worth, and also in the hope of currying a little favor with our women-readers:

A noted New York photographer recently declared that men are much vainer than women when they are being photographed! "People say women are vain," says the photographer, "but don't you believe it. I never saw anything as vain as a man in a studio."

Naturally, there will be many men hereabouts, to intimate that the photographer doesn't know what he's talking about. We are not inclined to argue very strongly in favor of the conclusion he announces, but, just the same, we have seen some men who gave both eyes to their personal appearance — as if they had something there!

When politicians forget principles of government in order to gain votes, representative government inevitably loses ground.

Do some people have all the luck? We know one lady who admits meeting three men, eligible and suitable, but she is not married.

What with all the benefits the farmers are supposed to get from the government one is surprised that more Americans are not going into agriculture.

Congress has passed and sent to the White House a bill which will raise the wages of all workers to $1.00 per hour.

This $1.00 per hour deal calls for wages of every worker, regardless of his benefit to the employer, or what he may be doing. CIO says that it will fight to raise this schedule to $1.25 per hour.

The do-it-yourself movement has increased over the nation because of this antic by Congress and CIO.

We shall see what we shall see.

Independence in the search for truth and courage in stating the facts will do much to keep a democracy operating.

Farm income is declining which means that farm buying power is dropping and merchants can tell you what this means.

This is the time of the year that the graduates solve the world's problems; they deserve commendation for trying, anyway.

Only about 15% of the tornadoes occur during the month of June. The balance of storms come in early summer months.

Traffic fatalities continue to proclaim the need for strict enforcement of regulations designed to make modern motor travel safe for the people.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS By BOYCE HOUSE

When "Roaring Ranger" came off the press a few years ago, they had a "Boyce House Day" in that city and gave a luncheon in honor of the new book about the big oil boom. Among those attending was J. E. T. (Temple, to his friends) Peters, manager of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce in boom days, now living a life of ease in Cisco.

And seeing him reminded me of a happening back in the 1920's when he was Cisco's C of C manager and I was staff correspondent for the old Fort Worth Record and had headquarters in Cisco.

Ever since I've known him, Peters has been rather thin and not especially robust in appearance. He and I were chatting on the street when a man came along. He had broad shoulders, and was wearing a leather coat and had a complexion that comes from spending most of one's time in outdoor activities. He looked accustomed to the saddle and strong enough to bulldoze a steer.

"Howdy, Fessor," he said. (Long ago, all men who taught school were called "Professor," sometimes shortened to "Fessor.")

Peters said, "Howdy." "I'll bet you don't know who I am," the man continued and Peters' face showed he was making a strong but completely unsuccessful effort to place the other. The rancher said, "I went to school to you at Sabanno"—a small community in Eastland County. "I never will forget the last day of school. You gave me a whale of a thrashing and I told you then that when I grow up, if I ever met you, I would beat h— out of you."

Peters' prominent Adam's-apple bobbed up and down and he turned pale. I braced myself to try to pry the other man off him. The rancher continued, "Them was great days, wasn't they, Fessor?" And Peters grabbed the other's hand with both of his, pumped it up and down and, with a big smile and with most unschool-teacher grammar, replied, "Them sure was."

I read about a hero in American history the other day that was "afraid of nothing." That describes me, too. I'm afraid of just nothing.

UNIMPORTANT

It was his first experience as a shop assistant. "Have you an account here, ma'am?" he asked, after booking a customer's order. "No!" was the reply, "but I would like to see the manager." The assistant walked across to where the manager stood. "A lady of no account to see you, sir," he said.

If work done by Diesel locomotives on American railroads in 1954 had been performed by steam locomotives, it would have cost the railroads over $600,000,000 in additional fuel and maintenance costs alone!

Since 1937, the Detroit Diesel Engine Division of General Motors has produced Diesel engines for earthmoving equipment, oil well drilling rigs, fishing boats, etc., equal to over 61,000,000 horsepower.

The foundry of the McKinnon Industries, subsidiary of General Motors, at Grantham Township, Ontario, is the most modern in the British Commonwealth of Nations.

The U. S. Navy is the world's largest user of Diesel engines. There are more 16-cylinder 2,000 horsepower engines installed by Cleveland Diesel Engine Division of General Motors in the Navy than any other type.

Inland Manufacturing Division of General Motors, in cooperation with Chevrolet, has developed an extremely simplified and lighter weight ball joint construction for use in automotive suspension.

Soviet aims are unchanged, Radford and Gruenther say.

Chevrolet's "Super Turbo-Fire V8" with 180 hp.

You can spot this one by the twin tailpipes. No matter what you drive, you're going to see twin-exhaust Chevrolets pulling away—in traffic, on the toughest hills, on the long straightaways.

... Unless you have a "Super Turbo-Fire V8" of your own. And then you'll know what it's like to pilot the car that sets the pace for everything else—and doesn't pause to read the price tags!

What makes the Super seat? Chevrolet's superb valve-in-head V8, with the shortest stroke in the industry, the most power per pound, and the only 12-volt electrical system in its field—all this plus a four-barrel carburetor and free-breathing twin exhausts.†

Want to sample this silk-lined cyclone? Just give us a call, any day this week, and we'll be proud to show you just how hot a V8 can be.

*Optional at extra cost. †Station wagon models have single exhaust pipes.

Cat Naps Are Purrfect Antidote for Fatigue

BY EDNA MILES

THE virtues of the cat nap are well known to most of us. But it's actually getting around to it that's difficult. So many things to do, so many things to interfere.

The housewife can't regulate her day nor call her time her own, despite the charts regularly issued by efficiency experts. The home is not an office, contrary to all arguments, and can't be run with the clockwork speed of an office.

A cat nap, then, is best fitted into the day whenever a few moments offer. Even a ten-minute nap is a help. If actually stretching out on the bed in the daytime isn't a tempting idea to you, then equip yourself with a reclining chair that offers comfortable support in any position from upright sitting to full reclining.

Some of these chairs have a built-in head roll for neck and head support. Others have a small, adjustable head pillow that can be flipped out of sight behind the chair when it's not in use.

Best plan is to fit a cat nap into your day before you become overtired. This gives you the most benefit for the least expenditure of time, allows you to get through a busy day with ease.

Follow kitty's example. A short rest in a reclining chair during your busy day will give you a quick energy lift. Even though it's only for 10 minutes or so, you'll "snap back" and avoid that overtired feeling.

GENERAL MOTORS

The General Motors Company agreed with the United Automobile Workers, C.I.O., to supplement the unemployment insurance benefits that laid-off production workers receive. The agreement, which closely follows the pattern set in the Ford contract, averted a 350,000 man strike.

QUITE STRANGE

An old actor was playing "Othello" when he was struck on the head by a melon.
"Dear me!" he said. "What strange forms applause sometimes takes!"

MODERN READING

"What are you reading, daughter?"
"A novel, father, entitled 'The Lovelorn Lovers.'
"Umph! The usual modern rubbish, I suppose!"
"It's a book you presented to mother years ago."

NOT HIS TURN

A colored preacher at the close of his sermon, discovered one of his deacons asleep. He said: "We will now have a few minutes of prayer. Deacon Brown will lead."
"Lead," said Deacon Brown, suddenly awakening, "I jis' dealt."

FEDERAL REAL ESTATE

Calling for an end to "waste and decentralization" in Government real estate management, the Hoover Commission reported that the Government had a $40,800,000,000 investment in 63,200,000 acres, over and above nearly 800,000,000 acres in the public domain.

NOT BARGAINED FOR

The following advertisement appeared in a physical culture magazine:

"Here's a good test for your mid-section muscles. Clasp hands overhead and place feet together on the floor. Now bend to the right at the waist as you sit down to the left of your feet. Then, by sheer force of your muscles, haul yourself up, bend to the left and sit down on the floor to the right of your feet. Stick with it, and let us know the results."
The next day a letter came in. It said simply: "Hernia!"

ATOMIC "FALL-OUT"

A recent article in the Bulletin of Atomic Scientists warns that the "persistence of fallout for weeks and months" after an atomic bombing means that the "shelter phase" of Civil Defense cannot be limited to a few days, as some had previously thought.

ADDRESS, PLEASE

"Miss Jones at home?"
"I'm afraid she's—er—in negligee now, sir."
"Well, you can give me the address; I may be going to France myself next week."

FATHER'S ADVICE

Black — "What did her father advise when you told him you loved his daughter, but only had a thousand dollars saved up?"
White — "He advised me to invest it all in a one-way railway ticket with no stop-overs!"

NOT VERY LONG

Policeman — "How long have you been driving, miss?"
Girl Motorist — "Ever since my boy friend fell out — three miles back."

JUVENILE LOGIC

It was the little boy's first visit to church and when the choir entered, all in white, he whispered to his father: "Look quick, Daddy! They're all going to get a haircut!"

TEXAS RANGERS

The Texas Rangers have played an effective, valiant and honorable role throughout the early years of conflict within its borders. Stephen F. Austin employed them as early as 1823 to protect frontier colonies against the Indians. Each Ranger provides himself with a good horse, a rifle and a brace of pistols. One of the most celebrated exploits came in 1871, with the killing of Sam Bass and his robber band at Round Rock. The Texas Rangers of today are charged with the enforcement of laws governing major crimes.

Colorful Checks Brighten Baby's Wear

BY EDNA MILES

THERE are fashion changes in baby clothes just as there are changes for the older children in the family.

Until a few years back, white was the traditional choice for baby clothes. But color has come to nursery fashions and appears in diapers, sheets, shirts and dresses.

In other seasons, polka-dot and rosebud prints appeared in diaper form for the play-pen set.

This season, checks are making fashion news in the adult world. Their color has spilled over into nursery fashions and the first calico check diapers in pastel pink, yellow and blue are out.

These new calico checks are colorfast printed on gauze fabrics for easy washing and fast drying. This means they can go into the machine without losing their soft texture or color.

These new diapers are meant to be mix-matched with pastel shirts and nighties.

Newest thing in nursery—fashion is pastel-checked calico diapers. They're full weight for full absorbency.

Lovely corsages of white carnations were presented by the club to Mrs. Hildreth and Mrs. Warwick.

Mrs. Warwick talked on the early history of Randall county, its organization, the people who were early ranchers and settlers, their hardships, their faith, their sacrifices, and courage in overcoming the difficulties of those early days.

New Officers Take Over in Rotary Club

Dr. Charles Nester took charge Tuesday, performing his first duties as president of the Canyon Rotary Club. He introduced the new officers of the club who had been elected by the club as follows:

Frank Morgan, vice president; Dudley Bayne, secretary; Bill Davis, treasurer; directors, J. B. Roberts, M. R. Callihan, Don Standley, Arthur C. Haley, Jr.

Dr. Nester called upon E. E. Plank, who attended the Golden Anniversary convention at Chicago, together with his wife. Mr. Plank made a humorous talk of his first day at the convention and described the way he thought as the song of each state was played by the band, the Texas song leading off.

Dr. Nester stated that he had his eyes opened to the obligations and fundamentals of Rotary. It is more than a luncheon club, declared the new president. When you see 20,000 delegates assembled from 64 nations of the earth, you begin to realize the impact that Rotary has had on the lives of men. It has stood the test of time.

If every person on the globe should decide to observe the Golden Rule, the ills of each and every nation would be solved at once.

Twenty-two visitors and guests were introduced to the group. The past president's pin was given to Frank Morgan by Dr. Nester.

The first club assembly of the club will be held at the Museum building Thursday night.

Dr. and Mrs. Bradford Black and son, Billy, spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Mary Bradford Black. Dr. Black is a practicing dentist in Beaumont.

Mrs. Billy Smith and children of Houston spent Sunday night with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McAtee.

Miss Roberta Simpson of Borger spent Sunday in the Wilbanks' home.

Known Area and Best Coverage Says Counsellor

Monte Rosenwald, advertising counsellor from Amarillo, spoke to a group of business men Tuesday at the Chamber of Commerce coffee time, advising that advertisers should consider their area and the best methods of reaching the potential customers.

Mr. Rosenwald is with an advertising agency in Amarillo, which buys space in newspapers and time over radios for customers. His firm spends many hours before telling the customer where he should spend his money and how much he should spend with each medium.

What would happen if all advertising was suddenly stopped? he asked. Prices would not go down; newspapers would be cut in size, throwing thousands of men out of work; magazines would sell at a $1.00 per issue, and be reduced in size, if all advertising were stopped.

Advertising does not increase the price of materials, but adds to their sale. It is the force upon which America depends for development. Yet even in colleges and high schools there are hundreds of books which are devoted to economics, and few even mention advertising and its force.

Advertising is truthful. The advertiser who distorts facts is soon kicked out of any newspaper, magazine, and off the radio. The Federal Trade Commission examined ads from more than 1½ million firms last year and found less than 1500 objectionable in facts. This is .12 percent of those examined.

The cost of advertising Cokes is only 1.63 of a cent, or the customer would get 10 additional drops of Coke if there was no advertising.

The speaker related a story of 30 years ago when popular items were used by the average man. Not a single one of these items were now on the market. They failed to follow up with advertising.

Cutting off advertising is like cutting off your circulation; yet too many folks believe that when business gets a little dull, the first thing he should do is cut down advertising.

Mr. Rosenwald insisted again that his firm never sells advertising, or selected medias to be used. His business is solely that of creating advertising and placing it where the customer thinks it will do the most good. He predicted that the radio, as we now know it will soon pass out. Television is still too high for small business accounts. He is strong in his belief that newspapers are serving the best interests of the small communities of the Panhandle.

Don't Sleep on Rights for Debts

John hadn't made an open account of his grocery bill for two and one-half years. He was not a dishonest man, but was just a poor manager. After several years, the groceryman sued for the bill.

John's attorney interposed the defense of the statute of limitations. Yet there was no question but that John owed the money. One may ask why the laws permit such a defense as the statute of limitations, or outlaw an otherwise valid claim.

The groceryman slept on his rights. He should have acted sooner. The courts cannot be used for processing stale claims. Proof of such claims is more difficult. One litigant might wait for the only adverse witness to die, and then sue. Memories grow dim and sometimes are modified to fit one's desired views. So the law says it is no injustice to force a litigant to act within a reasonable time, whereas if he doesn't, injustice is more likely to happen.

Practically all actions have time limitations. With some it is very short, as some claims against a municipality require that notice to the municipality must be given within ten days after the accident. On the other hand there is a 25 year limitation applying to some types of claims involving rights to real property.

Even criminal actions must be brought within a certain period, usually two to three years. An exception is a murder charge, which may be brought at any time.

IT'S WHAT LIGHTS HER WAY—Three-year-old Noreen Cozzi gets a good look at what makes things "go" at an intersection near her Chicago, Ill., home. The traffic light was knocked from its perch in an accident, and somebody strapped it to the post.

Lawyers use the word "laches" in certain cases to indicate that the litigant slept on his rights and should be denied relief since "equity aids the vigilant."

Mrs. Ples Harper and daughter, Martha, left for Tucson Monday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Pease. Mrs. Pease recently underwent surgery.

Worth A. Jennings returned this week from Phoenix, Ariz. where he had gone to bring his wife home. They visited in the home of their daughter in Phoenix.

Mrs. Fred Standley, Jr., and two children of Santa Fe, N. M., spent the week-end at the Fred Standley, Sr., home.

Konrad Adenauer, West German Chancellor: "It is important to recognize the fact that in the Atlantic and in the Pacific, the adversary are the same."

Harry E. Weston, paper official: "Pulpwood is king in the South today, not cotton."

Boris Leonteyev, Russian radio commentator: "The Atlantic military alliance is spearheaded against the USSR and the Eastern European countries of peoples' democracy."

Dwight D. Eisenhower, speaking to Lutheran young people's group: "It is essential today that young people take up the task of trying to build bridges of understanding among the world's peoples."

Edwin B. Broderick, Catholic priest: "The church is not only the household of saints, it is a haven of sinners."

Experts Tell a Dreary Tale of Russia and Russian Conditions

WASHINGTON: There is enough evidence now available to the U. S. Government to lead to the conclusion that a heavy strain is now being felt inside Russia. The most likely cause is thought to be continued emphasis on heavy industry and aircraft and atomic weapons programs in the USSR.

This is the path championed by Nikita Khrushchev, new Communist party boss inside Russia, as against the emphasis Georgi Malenkov placed on consumer goods and improving the lot of the average man in Russia.

It is known that the Russian economy cannot keep pace with the U. S. economy in the fields of aircraft production, atomic weapons, and heavy industry without the effect being felt far more by the normal civilian population than is the case in the USA.

Yet, the Russians are keeping pace with a huge U. S. financial outlay and program in all these fields. Little is being left over for bettering working conditions, improving the supply of foodstuffs, lowering prices and increasing production of consumer hard goods.

As a result a real pinch is continuing to grip the Russians, and it may be that pressure is building up in Russia for a solution to this dilemma. If that theory is correct, then it may explain the change in Russian tone in recent months and weeks.

There is also considerable speculation that Khrushchev may not be master of the Reds in Russia as long as some have assumed. This opinion is based, primarily, on the Communist party leader's behavior in Belgrade in early June.

The tale is now widely known, about Khrushchev's heavy drinking and anything but spartan behavior during his stay in Yugoslavia. But this conclusion may be a premature one. The theory is that the Communists will not forever allow the top man representing Russia to get by with such conduct, especially when he is in a foreign country.

This is perhaps an optimistic conclusion and one which should not be taken too seriously—though it could pan out in the end to be good prophecy.

But combined with recent testimony of both General Alfred Gruenther and Admiral Arthur Radford, the Russian situation is looking up a bit. Both of these distinguished military men have told Senators and Congressmen, in executive session, that something is wrong inside Russia. They both think this country, and the other democracies, should put up a firm front at the coming Big Four meeting in Switzerland.

Backing up this view, in Washington recently, was Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany. The aging Chancellor agreed that appeasement was not now in order and that the West is far more likely to get concessions — if any are to be gained — by maintaining a solid, strong front against Communism than by any other approach.

Adenauer is highly respected in Washington. Many government officials consider him to be the strongest U. S. ally active in Europe today and his record of fighting the Nazis, even before the war, adds weight to his thoughts and opinions in Washington circles.

His determination to keep West Germany on the side of the West, and to reject neutralism, is applauded as both a courageous and farsighted decision on the Chancellor's part. It is probably accurate to say that the attitude of Adenauer and that of top U. S. Military and State Department officials will go into the Big Four meeting in a relatively strong position, which is so vital in international conference of this kind.

LAWN-MOWER BURNS: 2 HURT

District Heights, Md. — David S. Maupin, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Maupin, was playing with the family's gasoline-powered lawn mower in the basement of his home. Trying to fill the gas tank, the boy spilled some of the gasoline and, in some way, the spilled gasoline ignited, severely burning the boy. Mrs. Maupin was burned about the chest and hands when she seized him from the flaming fuel.

Houston. — If it hadn't been for Grandma Ammie Dennis, "Indian" Johnny Dennis, Jr., 6, would have been a "dead Injun." Johnny was participating in a Davy Crockett battle with other "Indians," and was to be "hung." His playmates looped a length of cord over a tree limb, knotted the other end about Johnny's throat and then Johnny either stepped or fell off an ice cooler. Playmates ran for help and Mrs. Dennis got him down. At a hospital, Johnny was found to be more frightened than anything else.

Cincinnati, O. — Ten-year-old George Biedenbach telephoned the Cincinnati Enquirer office to insert an advertisement thanking his school teacher, Mrs. Lucille W. Thank you so much." The ad-taker was so impressed with the idea that the feelings of the boys were expressed free of charge as a news article in the Enquirer.

Latest Rumors From Political Front of Nation

President Eisenhower left New Englanders with a very definite feeling that he likes his job and will be running for office again in 1956. Senator Ralph Flanders (Rep.), of Vermont, confided: "As sure as I'm standing here, Ike is going to run. He's got world responsibilities that he cannot duck."

The President remarked to a Vermont State Senator when in that State: "I want to make money from my farm because I want to live there someday." The State Senator expressed the hope that Ike would not settle on the farm for several years. The President wouldn't say, but just grinned.

Adlai Stevenson, in line for the 1956 Democratic nomination, is somewhat concerned by the lack of enthusiasm that a good many party politicians continue to display when talking about the 1956 campaign. Mr. Stevenson is not getting much help in his effort to start developing issues now.

Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Majority Leader of the Senate, can have second place on the 1956 Democratic ticket if he will take it. Senator Johnson's name would be expected to help in the South and among "conservative" voters.

Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder, the President's physician, observed, when Mr. Eisenhower was presented with his latest cow: "I wish they would give him a cow that gave skimmed milk. Maybe it would help to keep his weight down." Actually, Ike doesn't look overweight but the idea is to make sure that he does not gain."

John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, on occasion shares with Ike the misery of brusitis. Neither the Secretary of State nor the President, however, has a serious case.

James C. Hagerty, the White House Press Secretary, at times discovers that things go on about which he doesn't know. Asked on one day about reports that Army Secretary Robert Stevens was resigning, Hagerty commented: "I know of no resignation. There is none before the President." On the next day, Hagerty announced the resignation.

can look for little if any change under the new White House patronage boss, Edward Tait. Mr. Tait is under instruction that the principles which applied under Charles Willis, Jr., are to continue in force.

Democratic leaders in Congress have served notice on the White House that it cannot count upon Democratic support for any further cuts in military budgets. Democrats are becoming convinced that the White House planners want to cut military spending enough to justify a sizable reduction in taxes in election year 1956.

James Riddleberger, U. S. Ambassador to Yugoslavia, took 106 pages of typewritten testimony to tell a Senate committee what kind of deal Marshal Tito cooked up with Russia's Nikita Khrushchev. The Department of State then edited this testimony down to four pages devoted largely to the Ambassador's name, address and account of unimportant incidents.

Khrushchev, though inebriated during some of his time in Belgrade, did get some kind of agreement of co-operation from Tito related to the Soviet Union's plan for a security system in Eastern Europe. American diplomats are somewhat uneasy about the reliability of a group of Communist leaders around Marshal Tito.

India's Jawaharlal Nehru now has gone all out in his acceptance of the Soviet line of foreign policy, raising questions about the future of the gifts from U. S. taxpayers now being prepared for him. One inside view is that Nehru expects that the United States will be forced to give more concessions now that he has expressed his enthusiasm for the Soviet Union.

Neither President Eisenhower nor Secretary Dulles looks for anything really tangible to come out of the meetings to be held with the Soviet Union's Nikolai Bulganin in starting July 18. The most U. S. officials hope to do is to keep the Communists from getting another propaganda victory.

Any American turncoats who may have renounced American citizenship while in Communist China might be forced to go back to the Communists. The British in Hong Kong are unwilling to take any paperless Americans demanding asylum in that crown colony. U. S. officials are under orders not to do more than help turncoats get passage home.

Juan Peron, Argentina's dictator, was forced to make concessions to high Army officers as a condition for keeping his job. Peron no longer is free to act without consulting the Army, which is inclined to be moderately conservative on labor and religious issues.

FEDERAL SAVING

The Hoover Commission has laid down a program of budgetary and accounting reform which it maintains will provide the opportunity for saving $4,000,000,000 a year in Federal spending. NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

International Blackmail

"Blackmail" is a bad word and is no doubt deeply frowned upon in diplomatic circles. However, if we are to follow the logic that was advanced in arguing for passage of the foreign aid bill to the tune of three thousand million dollars ($20 from every man, woman and child in the U. S.), we must reach the inevitable conclusion that Uncle Sam is being taken.

The bill provides for expenditures of 3 1/4 billion dollars to go to foreign countries. It is termed the "Mutual Security Act." But when one member tried to have some of his unemployed constituents included in the benefits, the amendment was ruled out of order because the constituents were United States citizens and the bill was confined to foreign aid. Many of us wonder why it is called the "MUTUAL" Security Act.

This expenditure is approximately the difference between a balanced budget and deficit spending. Only a few days ago, Treasury Secretary Humphrey asked for and received an extension of the debt limit ceiling for another year. The ceiling was formerly 275 billion dollars. Last year the administration asked for a 6 billion dollar temporary increase for one year, which was granted.

This temporary increase was extended for another year just the other day. Like most temporary government matters, it appears that this increase will be with us for a long time. We have several temporary agencies that have been in existence for a number of years. In fact, the foreign aid program was supposed to be temporary. The only thing temporary has been the name. The name of the program and the name of the agency handling it have been changed several times, but the expenditures go on and on.

It was repeatedly argued that the measure was a defense measure and could not be justified on any other ground; that it was a defense measure against Russia and communism, and that if it was not for the threat of communism, the expenditures could not, under any circumstances, be justified. In other words, the proponents were saying that so long as Russia was a threat to this country, we should continue to pay money to the several countries mentioned in the foreign aid bill. It would logically follow that if Russia ceased to be a threat to this country, then these payments should cease. As all of you know, Nehru, of India, has frequently expressed contempt for our government and has recently completed a visit to Moscow and Belgrade.

Tito, dictator of Yugoslavia, openly and flagrantly brags that he has a communist country that is more communist than Russia. He, too, has recently completed some visits to Moscow. Both India and Yugoslavia were included in the foreign aid bill for sizable sums. Many of the Members called the attention of the House to the actions of both Nehru and Tito.

The proponents of the bill did not defend either of them, but took the position that we had to give them money to help keep them from joining up with Russia. If this logic is correct, then it must follow that it would be to the best interests of Nehru and Tito to perpetuate a fuss and cold war between the Soviet and the United States, simply because any settlement of the differences would mean an end to the millions of dollars flowing to India and Yugoslavia out of the pockets of the taxpayers of this country.

The same logic would lead us to the conclusion that we are paying tribute to these two governments because of the threat that they will go communistic if we fail to pay up. This might not be international blackmail, but it comes pretty close to it. It simply means that the grand old phrase "Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute," that has long thrilled the crowd at the 4th of July gatherings, seems to be passe.

Reading To Be Taught at West Texas July 25-28

Several hundred teachers and school administrators from the West Texas region are expected here at West Texas State College July 25-28 for the Third Annual Reading Conference. The meeting is sponsored jointly by the Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading and the WT Education department.

Registration is $10 for the conference, or $3 a day. Among side-light entertainment are a watermelon feast, a drama by the summer theatre Palo Duro Players, picnics and parties in Palo Duro Canyon, and other events.

Among the topics to be discussed are "Reading: The Master Skill of Civilization;" "Structural Techniques in Remedial Therapy;" "Causes of Reading Disability;" "The Teaching of Spelling;" "Who is the Mature Reader?;" "Putting Punch in Poetry;" and many others.

Curtis E. Babcock Represents West State at Ft. Hood

Curtis E. Babcock, coordinator of public services, will represent West Texas State College at a formal visitation program July 8-9 at Fort Hood, where 25 WT Reserve Officers' Training Corps cadets are attending a six-weeks summer camp.

The program is designed to acquaint college officials with the training given cadets, who attend the required camp between their junior and senior year. The Fort Hood camp is the first in the three years WT's unit has been organized to be attended by the whole WT detachment. In former years, students attended training camps in the particular branch of service for which they were training.

Mr. Babcock will tour the camp and training areas, witness the daily program, tour student barracks and mess halls, and visit points of interest at the Fort. He will visit the Third Corps Non-commissioned Officers Academy, and on Saturday, to close his visit, he will see a parade by the student corps, made up of cadets from throughout the United States.

Son of F. C. Babcock, 121 Cherry in Dumas, Mr. Babcock has been coordinator of public services at WT since 1952. He formerly taught at Canadian and Borger high schools. He earned his B.S. degree in 1949 and his masters degree in 1953 at WT.

Around the Town..

(By Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick)

Mr. and Mrs. John McBride are building a new home at 2416 10th Ave. It will be finished with pink velvet brick and have a rose gray roof. The house has an entrance hall, living room, dining room, kitchen, three bedrooms, bath, service room, storage room and garage.

The McBrides have two sons, George, nine years old, and John Gary, 8 months old. Mr. McBride is with the Pioneer Gas Company with offices in Amarillo. Mrs. McBride has the agency for the Globe-News in Canyon. Mrs. McBride came here from Leghorn, Italy, in 1946.

Since then her sister, Mrs. Caldwell, and her son, Steve, two and a half years old, have come to Canyon. Arrangements are being made for her husband, who is employed by an American firm in Italy, to join her soon. Another sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Miller, also came here. Mr. Miller is from Washington, Georgia, and is at present attending W.T.S.C.

Mrs. McBride says that in Italy they lived at Leghorn which is on the northwest coast and that all three of them do miss the ocean, however they all like the Plains.

Mrs. Blake Gordon and her seven year old son from San Diego, Calif., have been visiting with Mrs. Erdman and Miss Loula Grace Erdman.

The Home Demonstration Clubs of Randall county take as their aim "To have Every Home Economically Sound, Mechanically Convenient, Physically Healthful, Morally Wholesome, Mentally Stimulating, Artistically Satisfying, Socially Responsible, Spiritually Inspiring, Founded Upon Mutual Affection and Respect." —J. Lita Bane. It is an aim everyone could well follow.

On July 11th Dr. and Mrs. A. K. Knott, Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Sheffy, Mrs. Clay Cooper, Mrs. S. B. Linder, Mrs. Clyde Warwick and Patricia Haley will leave for a two months tour of Europe. Dr. Knott planned the trip and will be in charge until we arrive in Europe when English-speaking guides from each country will be provided.

The group will visit England, The Netherlands, Austria, Germany, Italy, Switzerland, and France.

They will be joined in Amarillo by Mrs. Frank Storm, Mrs. Jim Guleke, Mr. and Mrs. Nobles and Miss Wilma Neely.

Mrs. Cooper and Patricia Haley will fly home the first of September, but the rest of the party will return by steamer and arrive home September 18.

A happy life is made up of little things in which smiles and small favors are given habitually. A gift sent, a letter written, a call made, a recommendation given, transportation provided, a cake made, a recommendation given, transportation provided, a book lent, a check sent — things which are done without hesitation. Kindness isn't sacrifice so much as it is being considerate of the feelings of others, sharing happiness, the unselfish thought, forgetfulness of our present interests—all these make up a happy life. —Columbia Bulletin.

Charles Brasher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brasher, underwent surgery for sinus in Amarillo. Charles is much better and returned home Saturday.

Rev. and Mrs. James Riggsby from Rockport, Ky., arrived Saturday morning to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Riggsby.

John Beagle of Wichita, Kans., visited with his sister and family. Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Parker, Jr. Mr. Beagle is on his way to Sioux Falls, S. D., where he has been transferred.

Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Hunt and three-year-old son, Walter, from Jacksonville, Fla., have returned home after visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Upchurch and her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Cole.

The West Texan has the following story about the retired professors of W.T.S.C. who live in Canyon. "Miss M. Moss Richardson, for 20 years a member of the English department, still lives at Rest Cottage, goes to church as regularly as ever, and invites students in to read the Bible and Shakespeare. She plays a good game of dominoes, too.

"Dr. Ford Fronabarger, living graciously across from the campus with his aged mother and retired sister, Miss Elva, cheerfully attends to the daily chores, smokes a leisurely cigar, and greets students and faculty.

"Professor T. B. McCarter smokes his pipe; walks to the post office; visits with the same cordiality; and he and his charming wife have time to entertain their friends and take an active part in the life of their community.

"Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phillips, no longer concerned with the routine of the agriculture department, go and come from visits with their daughters and grandchildren. Life is as busy for them as ever.

"Dr. Chester Pierle is still at home in his laboratory, not in the Science Building now, but in his back yard. He is doing laboratory work for an oil company and filling his life with very productive activity.

"Mrs. Geraldine Green, former dean of women, is no longer on the campus, but she is able to carry on for the college by doing correspondence courses for the English department. She has a hobby of playing the radio games, writing answers to puzzles and advertising contests. She uses the "encyclopedia" information which always amazed her students to profitable advantage.

"Miss Edna Graham will always amaze those around her with her numerous interests and boundless energy. She has had two extended trips, to Europe and Australia, recently, has continued her club work, her many community and church services. She eagerly awaits visits from exes who truly miss an opportunity when they fail to drop in on her.

"Miss Anna Hibbetts lives at her home in Amarillo, but she returns to Canyon on every occasion and has the same enthusiasm for the college where she taught elementary education and the love of nature for so many years.

"Miss Dartha Walker has the best kept lawn in town and has the friendliest chairs under the shade. She has time to read and study, and remains an inquiring student. She takes an active part in her clubs, community and church.

"Mrs. T. V. Reeves, for many years at the head of the Bureau of Public Services, maintains all of her interests and more. She is an enthusiastic bird watcher, an active club member, and a good neighbor. Her interests in WTSC are founded in many years of ingrown service and helpfulness. She no doubts knows about and "the whereabouts" of more West Texas exes than any other living person.

"Wallace R. Clark sang tenor and directed good singing for WT students too many years to be far away in his interests. He lives in Canyon and works part time with KGNC radio. He is called their educational director.

"At the time of this writing, Joe Duflot is convalescing from an operation. Certainly it would take more than surgery to dull the ardor of Mr. Joe. He continues his interests in everything that concerns WT. He would be pleased indeed to hear from his former students. His address is 12 Dolphin St., Galveston, Texas.

"Dr. J. A. Hill goes and comes in his same unhurried way. He and Mrs. Hill live in their charming home off the campus, just around the corner from where he started with the college. He lives within the sound of the organ in the little chapel which bears his name, he meets students and faculty on the campus every day, and he keeps alive the Joe A. Hill tradition of the friendly prexy. He published his collected speeches last year in a volume called ONE MAN'S FAITH, and he is currently busy writing a history of the college to which he gave his life."

"Give and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give unto your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again." —St. Luke 38.

J. Arthur McMurray has returned to his home in Washington, D. C., after a week's visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McMurray and sister, Ona Mae. Brothers and sisters and their families who met him here were from Abilene, Plainview, Shallowater, and Canyon, and Tucumcari, N. M.

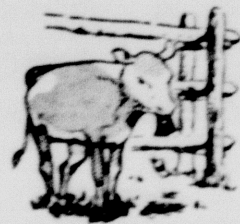

Mrs. W. S. Myers spent last week in Lubbock visiting with her sons and their families. While she was there Mrs. C. A. Holcomb, the mother of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bud Myers, died and was buried in Lubbock on last Tuesday.

Mrs. A. B. Gray left Friday for a vacation. She was to join her sister in Snyder and travel from there to Alba where they will attend homecoming day. Mrs. Gray will also visit in Mineola, Dallas, and Arlington.

Terry Blasdel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Blasdel, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Musselman, in Quincy, Ill.

Strange Ways People Lose Money

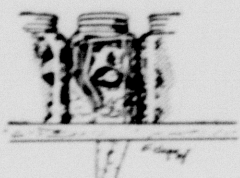

A lady in Hutchinson, Kansas sent the mutilated crumbs of ten and twenty dollar bills to the U. S. Treasury explaining that rats had eaten them. Some were pieced together and she was reimbursed. Most of it was lost.

In Menominee, Wisconsin a farmer lost his billfold in the field. Two days later he was slaughtering a calf and discovered the lost bills in its stomach. He got a full redemption from the Treasury.

Many people hide money in a receptacle and place it in the furnace. U. S. Treasury restorers can sometimes identify burned money, even when nearly reduced to ash—but not always!

In Atlanta, Georgia a recluse died with a will leaving $22,000 he had stored in a mason jar. They found the money—but mold and damp had solidified it so it couldn't be pried apart. X-rays saved some; most was lost.

There are lots of ways to lose money—especially when you are traveling. You leave it in a hotel room, send it to a cleaner; it may fall from your pocket, be left on a restaurant table or lost on the many occasions when you handle cash. However, American Express Travelers Cheques can never be "lost." Full redemption is made because no one but you can spend them.

Four Million Acres Are Now Being Irrigated

More than 4,000,000 acres of land is being irrigated by 33,537 wells on the High Plains of Texas. This and other facts are presented in the annual irrigation survey by R. V. Thurmond and Ralph L. Jones of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The reports, made yearly since 1949, show the tremendous expansion of irrigation in the area. The first report showed that 12,478 wells were being used to irrigate 1,711,000 acres on 9,025 farms. By May 1955, the number of irrigated farms stood at 17,099, the number of wells at 33,537 and the irrigated acreage at 4,017,530.

From May 1954 to May 1955, 5,554 wells were added and the acreage irrigated increased by 390,425. The greatest increase in the number of wells during the seven year period was the 6,268 added from May 1952 to May 1953. The increase in the area irrigated rose by 598,094 acres.

Hale county with 3,700 wells is the leader in this category. These wells supply the water to irrigated 470,000 acres. The 3,000 wells in Swisher county supply the water for 480,000 acres. The report shows Hockley county with 3,550 wells; Lubbock with 3,300 and Lamb county with 2,800 to rank high in the area.

Butane is used on 15,447 wells while natural gas powers another 11,881 pumping plants. A majority of the wells, 24,779, had a pumping lift of more than 125 feet and 17,592 were shown with a pumping capacity of under 700 gallons per minute.

Grain sorghum, cotton, wheat, alfalfa and sudan, mostly for pasture, were the principal crops irrigated. According to the report, grain sorghum lead cotton in 1955 by almost 400,000 acres.

Thurmond says the report is compiled from figures submitted from the county agricultural agents in the 43-county area.

Dehorned Cattle Best For Beef

COLLEGE STATION: Horns and choice beef carcasses do not go together. Feeders having horns, says U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman, do not feed out so well as dehorned cattle.

Badly bruised carcasses are usually found in shipments of horned animals. These bruises detract from the appearance of the carcasses and lower their sale value. Aside from the damage to the meat, the hide is frequently damaged as a result of cattle goring one another.

In general, dehorned cattle usually command better prices in the market place than horned cattle of similar quality and condition, Thompson adds.

Worry of FALSE TEETH Slipping or Irritating?

Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Less Eggs Are Being Predicted

Production from egg laying flocks is expected to dip five percent or more this fall below the same period last year commanding at least seasonal and perhaps higher prices for producers.

"Farmers have raised 19 per cent fewer replacement chicks this year," John G. McHaney, extension farm economist, explains. It appears that fall flocks will be six to eight percent smaller than a year ago.

While the number of replacement chicks started over the nation closely parallels farmer's February 1 intentions, in Texas and other South Central states the cut-back has exceeded the expected 15 per cent mark.

Poultrymen who bought replacement stock during the first four months of 1955 will profit most from the situation because of high egg yields at times when prices are more favorable.

The economist suggests that raisers starting chicks next September still may take advantage of some of the expected favorable prices during the second quarter of 1956.

Texas Farm Safety Week Set by Shivers

"More accidental deaths occur in farming than in any other major industry in the nation. Texas, with its widespread farming and ranching operations, is in a position to help reduce the toll taken by such accidents," said Governor Allan Shivers in his proclamation designating the week of July 24-30 as Farm Safety Week.

Earlier President Eisenhower had proclaimed the same period as National Farm Safety Week. He requested organizations and leaders interested in farm life to join in the continuing drive to reduce needless injuries and deaths to farm people.

The week is sponsored jointly by the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture and has been observed each year since 1944. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee working with the sponsors and farm organizations and leaders of the state report much progress during the past several years. The committee has called on farm organizations and rural youth groups to assist with carrying the message on safe rural living to farm and ranch families.

4-H club members not only conduct individual demonstrations involving farm safety but compete as teams for county, district and state honors in a farm and home safety demonstration contest.

It is the hope of the Texas Committee that farm families in every community will participate in activities which may be planned for their protection. The theme of the 1955 week is "Your Safety is in Your Hands... Be Careful Avoid Accidents."

Just Between You, Me . . . and the Gatepost

By Lawrence Hunnicutt

Things were really popping about the square Saturday as the local people prepared for a Fourth of July week-end holiday. A large number of people were taking advantage of the long week-end to enjoy a few days out of town. Others, specifically those in the sheriff's office and city cops, were sort of getting set for some busy days during the holiday week-end. Holidays are nice for everyone except officers, they sort of have to keep a closer watch during this time.

Visited A. W. Lair Saturday morning for a few minutes at his office in the court house. Mr. Lair, who was recently appointed to the newly created office of Randall County District Attorney, was busy with some forms. From time to time he managed to answer some of the questions about himself. We learned that he has had quite a bit of experience for a 34 year old lawyer. He is the father of four children, three sons and a daughter, he is a graduate of Canyon High School and holds a B.S. degree from West Texas State College. He won his law degree at Baylor University in 1949 and went from there to Borger to practice. Borger is the home town of his wife and while A. W. practiced at Borger he was a member of the law firm of Piper and Lair. He also served as City Attorney at Borger and later moved to Amarillo where he became assistant District Attorney for Randall County. He is a past president of the Hutchinson County Bar Association. He resigned his position with the District Attorney's office in Amarillo and came to Canyon and set up his office for private practice. He remained in this capacity until he was temporarily appointed County Attorney and then the final appointment from Governor Shivers came through making him Randall County District Attorney.

Had a short visit with Lee Foster in the School Tax office Saturday. He was a busy man, as he usually is. During the visit we talked with Mrs. Lehnick a little while. Mrs. Lehnick recently underwent surgery at Neblett Hospital for a calcium-like growth about her elbows. She has been afflicted with arthritis for some time, she enjoys telling that she has had arthritis for 100 years and we enjoy her joking about it even though we know she isn't as old as she would have some people believe. She probably feels that the arthritis has been with her for 100 years and it was this that caused the growth that had to be removed. She pointed out each elbow that had a lace-work of stitches on it and showed that she really had a web of fancy needlework as a result of this surgery.

Roland Black, Chamber of Commerce manager, said Saturday that the pool at the City Park is now being checked out by being filled with water. A lot of people probably visited the pool and saw the water in it. Roland explained that the water had to be placed in the pool for the bottom of the pool to be completed. The bottom has a finish of soft like material that must be under water to harden and set. This was the reason for the water in the pool. Pumps and drains were also being checked but there was still some work to be done on the dressing rooms.

A very familiar person was back in the City Hall last week with her usual smile. She is Mrs. Mary Ruth Hill Dowell. She and her husband, Chester, will be here for the summer months then they will go to Lubbock where he will coach the 7th grade boys and teach math and she will teach the second grade in the Rush Elementary School there. Since leaving Canyon they have taught at Dumas and he has served his hitch with the Army.

"We've really been living it up," said Annell Clay last week about the family activities during the month of June. She admitted that the travels were a lot of fun but that it was also wonderful to settle down and relax from all of them for awhile. She and her sister Reva flew to Kansas City, Missouri, for a cousin's wedding then went on to visit other places such as Lamont, Missouri, Sedalia, Missouri, and made a tour of the Ozark Mountains. They visited Bagnell Dam during the tour and were impressed very much by it. Annell said that they returned home and on the 25th and 26th of June the Clays enjoyed a reunion in Pampa. Then on the 27th of June the reunion started for the other side of the family, Mrs. Clay's relatives, the Butlers, held their reunion in Elk City, Oklahoma. Then relatives from Missouri visited in the Clay home here in Canyon and they visited such attractions as Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico. They sure lived it up in June all right.

Time to relax and sort of enjoy life. That's the reason we have the lighter side such as this. An optimist is a man who doesn't worry about not being able to pay his bills, instead, he is glad he's not one of his creditors.

The views expressed by husbands about the house are not necessarily those of the management.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

As tax collections show, burden of any U. S. foreign policy undertaking falls heavily on American independent businessmen.

In addition, there is a purely American psychological outlook on U. S. foreign policy among independent businessmen, which world meddling politicians apparently recognize and capitalize upon.

The average American independent businessman holds to two basic premises. One is that promises must be backed up. Other is legal maxim principal is responsible for acts of his agents.

Thus, Americans by and large have been quite chagrined, even mortified by the disclosures of Yalta and other conferences whereby lands and people have been bartered away to communist nations in exchange for something else, with the U. S. committed to back up the secretly arrived at deals. And even though these agreements have been made without knowledge of the people, or even without Congressional permission, they were made by agents of the American people, and thus under old legal maxim of a principal's responsibility for acts of an agent, a strong sense of responsibility is felt on Main Street.

Therefore, many students of government feel it is of paramount importance that Sen. William E. Jenner has introduced a simple resolution known as Senate Res. No. 95 to stop this.

This resolution states "No official or employee of the Government of the United States, or members of its armed services, shall be held responsible for acts of his agents."

may take part in any conference, or in steps leading to any conference, or in any commitment, open or secret, which has for its purpose or effect the transfer of any territory to the control of a Communist Police State or the transfer of any people or any part of the population of any nation to Communist enslavement. No such agreement or commitment shall be binding upon the United States."

This is simple language, but is certain bureaucrats will try mightily to get this resolution by Sen. Jenner killed, as they do not want their wings clipped.

Yet continuation of the policy of past twenty years with no brakes put upon bureaucratic impulses in foreign field can, and undoubtedly will, lead nation into heavier and heavier burdens.

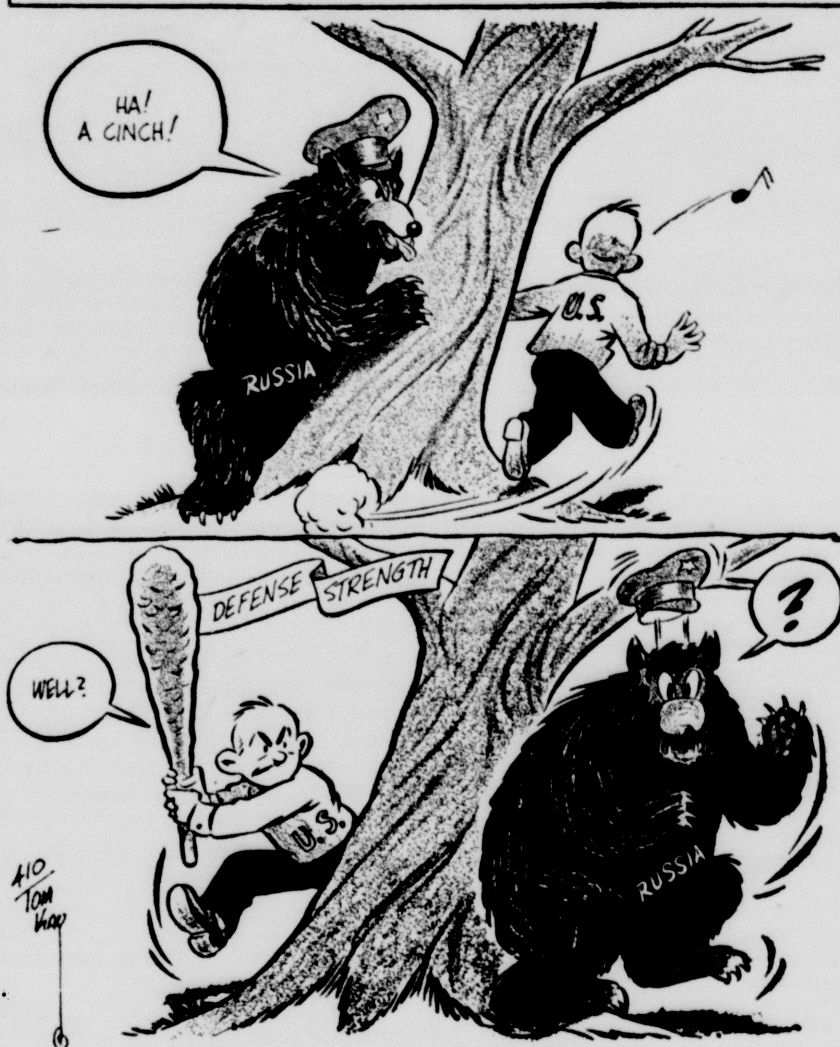

It is also noticed this resolution would put the world on notice that in certain matters the people of the United States are not responsible for acts of their agents.

This is standard business practice by firms who wish to avoid being held to the common law maxim of responsibility for an agent's acts.

The average American believes that much of England's trouble has been caused by earning the name of "perfidious Albion." It is strongly against American moral grain to welsh.

Thus, it is felt, the American people deserve protection from moral responsibilities for agreements made in secret which the Jenner resolution would afford. It will be interesting to note the many high flown arguments that will be marshalled against passage of this forthright, plainly stated resolution. However, citizens' letters to their Senators could insure passage of this piece of national protection.

June Building Permits Zoom To $197,500

Ten building permits for the month of June gave Canyon a total of $197,500 in construction. The issuing of building permits began at a healthy pace on the first day of June and held a steady pace throughout the month. Six of the ten permits were for residences ranging in price from $5,000 up to $14,000. Three permits were for additions to residences and the other was for the addition to the First Baptist Church.

The permit for the addition to the Baptist Church was the big one. This one totaled $125,000, which is more than half the entire sum for building for the month of June.

June totals in building amounted to $120,000 more than the May totals for building. The seven permits in May amounted to $77,500. Four of them were for residences, one for an addition, one for a church and one for a lumber company siding.

Local building has been holding steady during the summer months for the past few months. It fluctuates some during the fall, winter and spring months when there is a greater chance for bad weather.

Joseph A. Hill Chapel Is Setting For Glanton-Wimberly Nuptial Rites

MR. AND MRS. A. C. WIMBERLY

Before an altar banked with large baskets of gladioli accented with candelabra, Miss Bettie Glanton became the bride of A. C. Wimberly on June 11 at 6 o'clock in the evening in the Joseph A. Hill Chapel. The Reverend Strauss Atkinson performed the double ring ceremony.

Miss Glanton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Glanton and Mr. Wimberly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Wimberly.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Ann Dawdy, organist, played "Indian Love Call" and "Tenderly." "Claire de Lune" was played during the exchange of vows. Candles were lighted to "I Love Thee" and the traditional wedding marches were played for the processional and recessional.

Mrs. Charles Boston, sister of the groom, presided at the guest book as the guests entered the chapel.

Mrs. Gort Rushmer accompanied by Mrs. Dawdy sang "You'll Never Walk Alone" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" as the benediction.

Mrs. Burrus, sister of the bride, attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore an orchid street length dress of silk cotton covered with orchid lace. Her flowers were a corsage of purple carnations.

Candles were lighted by Miss Carolyn Glanton, sister of the bride. She was dressed in pink taffeta scattered with white roses. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Steve McKee was best man. Ushers were John Miller and R. A. Burgess.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a street length dress of brocade satin. Her veil of scalloped double illusion fell to shoulder length from a beaded tiara. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and showered with stephanotis and white satin streamers.

Mrs. Glanton, mother of the bride, wore a dress of beige with beige accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses. Mrs. Wimberly, mother of the groom, wore a navy crepe dress trimmed in white. Her accessories were white and her corsage was of pink roses.

For traveling to Denver, Colo., for their wedding trip, the bride chose a suit of baby blue linen with accessories of pink. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Wimberly are both graduates of Canyon High School. Mr. Wimberly is a junior in West Texas State. Mrs. Wimberly will be a freshman next fall.

They are at home at 505 24th Street in Canyon.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The question around Washington, "Was Bunker Hill a fact or myth? Was there really a Declaration of Independence?"

England cuts income taxes; Canadian income tax rates are under U. S. Yet U. S. taxes cannot be cut because of ever mounting deficits.

This may be significant. As soon as British election was announced Harold Stassen's Foreign Operations Administration started passing out U. S. cash. C. W. Harder to England in manner suggesting worldwide Tammany Hall.

In one period of 12 days, $20,270,000 more was given England in foods, including citrus fruits, and also $5 million worth of cotton which no doubt will be manufactured and shipped back to this country to further wreck U. S. textile industry which cannot buck combination of cheap labor plus free raw materials.

At Camden, N. J., in 1932 Candidate Eisenhower said "You cannot pile deficit upon deficit and then have left the kind of economy we have known."

Yet Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, strictly non-partisan on matters pertaining to wastage of taxpayers' money, says this administration is spending more on non-defense items than Truman administration, and "three times as much as in profligate New Deal of 1940."

Foreign give-away figures still startle. On recent day France got $26,622,000, Greece received $72,000 worth of scarce newsprint. Egypt since Farouk ousting, has been doing well getting U. S. tax dollars. Recently land of the Sphinx tapped U. S. for a total of $13,000,000. Another serious contender for U. S. dollars is Israel, rapidly climbing into big league of U. S. gift recipients. In the same period, this nation received almost $8,000,000, part in bookkeeping machines.

Oil rich Iran is also coming up into major money classification. In fact, in past two years more nations are getting feet in trough.

Sen. Byrd claims that average American family of five now owes $8,700 as their share of national debt. Thus, average family owes more than its assets.

Yet, there seems to be no end. With what Harold Stassen is now spending plus additional money he wants this Congress to give him, figures are astounding. It just means that for every American family, regardless of size, more than $40 per day is being given away. Sundays and holidays included. Just to stay even, this means every family would have to pay around $15,000 per year in taxes alone just to keep up with give-aways.

Fantastic part of it all is that many of the nation's receiving these gifts are rich in resources; many also have rich colonies. In fact, Sen. Byrd claims because of our bureaucrat's recklessness national debt of around $280 billion is more than combined national debts of all the world's nations put together.

Obviously, such a situation cannot go on. Yet, oddly, or even weirdly, no one is putting on the brakes, despite fact it is well known Karl Marx advised best way for communism to defeat a democracy is to let democracy bankrupt itself. The current condition appears too concerted to be haphazard; thus some feel there must be directing force unconsciously pushing U. S. into abyss of bankruptcy.

69 Poisonous Range Plants Are Studied

Bitterweed, milkweeds, loco weeds and the groundsls are among range plants most common and poisonous to livestock in Texas.

These plants are among 69 listed as poisonous grazing to livestock in Texas Range Plants Poisonous to Livestock, a new joint publication of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Extension Service.

Thirty-four plants are recognized as "most hazardous" to livestock, 22 are listed as having low toxicity but not frequently grazed and 13 are toxic but usually not hazard-

All of us hate to be photographed. At least that's what we say. "No it must look like me." "They always snap me with my mouth open." And so on.

But the other day a man whose business is being written up for a national magazine gave his wife a hurry-up call to get a dozen women there right away. The photographers were there and wanted to pose a group of housewives watching a demonstration. She had about half an hour in which to call the women and have them get to his place of business.

Of the 12 she called eight came, one with her teenage daughter. One of the others was shampooing her hair, at least two weren't at home. We saw one of these women later and she said she didn't like having her picture made, but would have come "just to help Mary out." Some of the women arrived in hat and gloves, others in becoming cottons and play shoes. Their chatter was delightful.

"I was in the yard; didn't even have time to wash my hands." "I told John to wait around and I'd fix him some lunch." "I was gathering radishes." "I had just come in from a party so I was dressed."

How many of them could have moved that fast for any other assignment? Most of us are honest, however, in saying we don't want our pictures made. When we look at ourselves in the mirror we're used to, we concentrate on such things as straight hose seams, or makeup. We rarely really see ourselves. But in a photograph, it's there in black and white. If we're beginning to spread at the seams, get gray, have wrinkles, there's no dodging it. It's in the record books.

A complete description of each plant, a list of animals commonly affected, and the management and control of each is given in the bulletin. It also contains a map showing statewide distribution and a picture of each specie.

Overgrazing and periodical droughts, says the publication, mainly are responsible for the decrease of more desirable plants and consequent increase of toxic and less desirable brush and weeds.

Copies of the informative 48-page bulletin, 796, are available from local county agricultural agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station.

AUSTIN: School-age children of Texas will be given a second round of polio inoculations before the month ends.

Assurance has been given State Health Officer Henry A. Holle, by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, that manufacturers of the vaccine will have completed production and safety testing of enough vaccine to permit another round of inoculations and booster shots by the end of July.

Fifty new cases of polio were reported for the latest reporting period, which ended June 25. It brought the state total to 509.

Austin has had 12 cases to date.

Draft Evader Sentenced
Two years in the federal penitentiary face Fred D. Jackson of Comanche.

He was sentenced by Federal Judge Ben H. Rice, Jr., when convicted of draft evasion. Jackson handled his own defense.

Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. Lonny Zweiner, said that the Jehovah Witness minister refused to work in the Austin State Hospital when ordered by his draft board — in lieu of military service. Yet he admitted working in a Fort Worth plant that manufactured military aircraft.

Adrian Case Delayed
Federal Judge Ben H. Rice, Jr., has postponed until next January a hearing to determine if 75-year-old John Cass Adrian of Austin is "mentally incompetent."

Adrian is a retired Austin mail carrier and Spanish American War veteran.

He is charged with writing a threatening letter to former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles on May 13, and attempting to extort $800,000 from Giles.

Parr Appeals
George B. Parr, "Boss of Duval County," has asked the U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals for permission to file two writs in his fight against charges of income tax evasion.

Parr wants the higher court to vacate an order setting his trial for July 18, and to stop proceedings until the Appeals Court reaches a decision.

Also, he wants the case heard in Laredo. Originally it was scheduled for Corpus Christi, then moved to Austin.

Parr has denied the government's charges that he failed to pay $85,000 in come taxes for the years 1949, 1950 and 1951.

Career Ends
Rep. George S. Berry of Lubbock, whose career in public office began 30 years ago, died in Austin last Friday. He was injured in an automobile accident on May 20.

Berry, who was 56, was serving his second term as a member of the Legislature. His first public office was as county attorney of Young County. Later he became assistant district attorney, and for a short time was assistant attorney general.

He was born in Granbury and moved to Lubbock in 1929.

School Squabble
A 1000-name petition was presented to Dr. J. W. Edgar, State Commissioner of Education, urging him to cancel certificates of the 110 teachers who struck in the recent school row in Irving.

Filing the petition were Clifford J. Moore and Donald O. Starrett, president and director, respectively, of the Council of Public Affairs at Irving.

They were advised by Dr. Edgar to have an attorney file a brief, supporting their contention, and if he decides he has jurisdiction, then each of the teachers involved will be granted individual public hearings.

Irving teachers struck in protest against the firing of Dr. John L. Beard as superintendent of the old Irving school board. When the district was abolished, and a new one created, the new board rehired Beard.

Dr. Edgar ruled earlier that the Irving school board did not have proper cause for canceling Dr. Beard's contract as superintendent.

Scouts Expand Program
Plans are being made for a 40 per cent expansion of the Boy Scout movement in Texas.

Over 100 Scout officials met here to outline a fund drive to be launched October 25. Howard W. Tellepsen of Houston directed the meeting. He is executive vice president of the steering committee.

Patrolmen-Guards Needed
Two types of openings exist on the state's payroll.

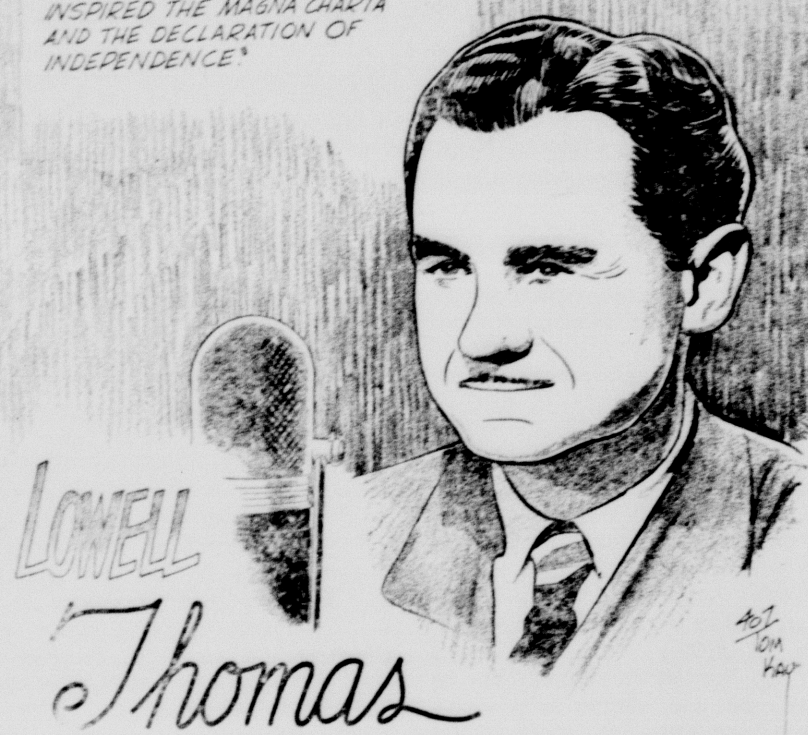

Homer Garrison, head of the Department of Public Safety, needs 200 patrolmen and O. B. Ellis, general manager of the Texas Prison System wants additional guards.

Applicants must be high school graduates in excellent physical condition. Patrolmen must be between the ages of 21 and 25; guards 21 to 50.

Starting salary for guards is $2700 a year. Patrolmen are paid

SHORT SNORTS: Texas had 397 drownings last year, most of them from failure to take sensible precautions, says Dr. Henry Holle, State health officer. . . . State cigarette tax income in June dropped off $38,021 and liquor taxes $32,808, compared with the same month last year, reports State Treasurer Jesse James. . . . May building construction in Austin showed a gain of 15 per cent over April, or more than double the 7 per cent increase shown throughout the 11th Federal Reserve District. Austin construction also showed a gain of 20 per cent over May 1954.

BEEF BRIEFS

Texas cattle do well in feedlots in major feeding areas of the nation as farmers convert their grain and roughage into beef with feeders from Texas ranges.

An indication of the favor in which Texas cattle are held by feeders is shown in a report on the huge Warren Montfort feeding operation near Greeley, Colo. Montfort last year shipped 108 cars of steers from the Dalhart area and later took delivery on large shipments from the Fort Worth and Wichita Falls areas.

He shows preference for the steers which are brought to feedlot shape on the good strong grasses in the area near Cresson south of Fort Worth.

Some farm scene observers were surprised at the top-heavy vote of approval which wheat farmers gave to marketing quotas for the 1956 crop.

The nation's wheat acreage has been set at 55 million bushels, the minimum allowed under Federal crop control laws.

The average support price will be $1.81 a bushel. Better milling types probably will be supported at a higher rate if present USDA plans are put into effect.

The Texas Beef Council's mid-summer membership drive is showing good results. Over 500 cattle producers have joined the beef promotion group in the past 60 days. Goal is 5,000 members by September.

A new publication, "Texas Range Plants Poisonous to Livestock," which has just been issued by Texas A & M College.

It contains pictures and descriptions of the many noxious plants which are found in Texas and which always show up in big numbers during a time of drouth and overgrazing.

It's Bulletin No. 796 and can be obtained from Texas A & M or through county agents.

A test on the Jeffrey Ranch in Young County appears to hold some promise for a new method of mesquite control.

A soil sterilant, CMU, used in a light amount in pellet form and applied by airplane, is having an effect on mesquite foliage in the test although results were not expected until next year.

CMU attacks the trees through the roots, rather than through leaves as do the herbicides now being used in control.

Need Healthy Communities

AUSTIN: Every Texas family needs the assurance that it is living in a clean and healthy community, according to Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health. The family needs the assurance that when disease threatens, there will be a local health agency ready to combat it on a community wide basis. Texas now has 47 full time city and county health units covering 57 counties. These 57 counties have 62% of the state's population.

An adequately staffed and financed health department provides six basic services to the citizens of the town or county. It keeps public health statistics, controls communicable diseases, promotes maternal and child health, enforces environmental sanitation, operates a public health laboratory and works to educate the community for better health. Each local health department will of necessity differ from others and the most effective public health program must be "tailor made" to fit the particular health needs and problems of its own community.

At present 197 counties in Texas do not have full time health protection. Dr. Holle has as one of his goals complete health protection in every county of the state. Some counties now have a large enough population to provide this service but for counties having sparse population, two or more could pool their resources and have the advantage of up to date public health methods.

Dr. Holle points out that giving full time health service to the entire state will require a substantial increase in the expenditure of funds for public health purposes. In his opinion this is the best investment any community can make. Although great strides have been made in maternal and infant health and in disease prevention, Texans cannot be content with less than complete eradication of preventable deaths. A state in which local health services are available everywhere is an important step toward this goal.

Texas Viewpoint

In Washington

By PRICE DANIEL
U. S. Senator

The late Amon G. Carter, publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and known variously as "Mr. Fort Worth" and "Mr. Texas," had many friends in Washington. We were grieved last week to learn of his death, and appropriate tributes were paid both in the House and the Senate.

In the passing of Amon G. Carter, Texas and the nation have lost one of the most able and patriotic citizens of our generation. Amon G. Carter's patriotism and good citizenship began with his home town of Fort Worth. No man ever loved his city more. Few men have ever accomplished more for their city and its people than did Amon G. Carter.

I first knew Mr. Carter when I was a high school student in Fort Worth. He helped promote Boys' Week, during which Fort Worth boys were elected to and served in every city and county office. My first view of public service was as Boys' Week city manager. Mr. Carter gave a banquet for us at the Fort Worth Club and encouraged us to take a keen interest in the processes of self-government. Later I served as a string reporter on his Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Throughout the years he inspired boys and girls to love their city and led men and women to work for it.

A Great American

Typical of men with love and loyalty for their home town, Amon G. Carter had the same love and patriotic zeal for his state and nation. He was generous with his time and money in many efforts to promote better government and a stronger national security.

The earthly life of this great American is ended, but his memory will continue to remind others of the opportunities which this country affords and the responsibilities which we owe to our com-

Independent Indian Tribes

The Alabama-Coushatta Indian tribes have been granted their independence from Federal supervision in accordance with legislation passed by Congress last year. All that remained was for Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay to issue his proclamation, and that terminated the supervision formerly exercised by the Bureau of Indian Affairs and transferred trusteeship of 3100 acres of lands belonging to the tribes.

For the first time since 1909, the bureau said, full independence from Federal supervision thus is being extended to an Indian tribal group. In that year, two Wisconsin tribes, the Stockbridge Munsee group, received fee patents for all their land holdings. Later they accepted the Indian Reorganization Act of 1934, which reinstated certain tribal relations with the Federal Government.

Tribute to Texas Tribes

This decision by the Secretary of the Interior is something of which the Texas Indian tribes near Livingston can be proud. Such independence will be granted only to those tribes which have made progress along the road to self-sufficiency.

When Texas came into the United States, it bought 1,100 acres in Polk County and had it deeded to the Indians in perpetuity. The tribes still own this land. In the late 1920's, the United States bought about 3,100 acres adjacent to the Indian-owned land and took title in trust for the Indian group. A quitclaim deed to this Federal trust land accompanied the proclamation.

Texas Bills

We had good fortune in two bills vital to Texas last week. First, the Senate passed the Texas City Disaster bill sponsored by Senator Johnson and myself in the Senate and Congressman Clark Thompson in the House. Then, on the same day, the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, of which I am a member, approved the Fulbright bill correcting the Phillips decision in the natural gas case by a vote of 11 to 4.

If enacted by Congress, this would exempt independent gas producers from utility rate price-fixing by the Federal Power Commission. It means much to Texas producers, to State tax revenues and conservation laws, and even more to gas consumers, who will receive a greater supply of natural gas at reasonable rates. We hope that the bill will be passed before Congress adjourns.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. Lessie Stevens over the week-end were Mrs. Joe Burns, Mrs. J. E. Larson and Bobby Joe, and Laverne Burns of Burkburnett.

Mrs. Si Marchbanks with her sons, Joe and Si Clinton, of Starkville, Miss., has moved back to Canyon to make their home. She resides at 1903 7th Avenue.

Thursday Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Wilson attended the funeral of A. K. Eden in Vernon. Mr. Eden was the father of Mrs. Johnnie Wilson of Amarillo.

Mrs. R. D. Lowry spent last week in San Angelo visiting relatives.

Some Farmers Are Called Upon To File Income Taxes

Many farmers in the Golden Spread are asking if they must file a quarterly social security report on their hired laborers and other employees for the first quarter of 1955. John R. Sanderson, Amarillo district manager for the Social Security Administration, has answered some of the most frequent questions along those lines as follows.

Only certain farmers will be required to file any kind of quarterly returns. They are required only if the farm employer's total social security tax liability from January 1 to the end of any one of the first three calendar quarters of the year amounts to $100 or more. Thus the farmer would file a quarterly report only if by April 1, July 1, or October 1, he has paid taxable wages of $2,500 or more. A farm employee's wages become taxable for social security purposes as soon as he is paid $100 or more in cash during a year.

Every farmer who will have one or more employees covered by the law in a calendar year is required to file a yearly return in the following January. This yearly return or report will list the names, social security account numbers, and individual amounts of wages for all covered employees.

Any farmer who will have one or more employees that will be paid as much as $100 in cash wages during 1955 should notify the Director of Internal Revenue, Dallas, Texas. Proper reporting instructions can then be sent the farm operator, and the proper reporting forms can then be sent him in ample time for each required report.

Texas Business Is In High Bracket

The Panhandle Herald publishes the following about the business of Texas:

The biggest business in Texas is the state itself. The state issues 400,000 checks monthly and spends $700 million dollars a year.

Of these checks 222,000 monthly go for old age assistance rolls and other thousands to dependent children, blind, unemployed, teachers and state employees.

Twenty-five years ago Texas was not in the business of assisting the aged. Today a vast part of our yearly budget goes to old age assistance. Part of this money comes from the federal government, but you need not think that you are not paying the bill.

Some of the expenses for the year ending last August 31 are: Groceries, meat and foods, $6,453,000; gasoline and oil, $828,000; postage, $780,000; travel expenses of officials and employees, $5,000,000; heat, water, light and power, $2,485,000; telephone and telegraph, $991,000; new passenger cars, $590,000; stationery and printing, $753,000.

These are just a few of the expenses, not including the vast sums for highways, public and higher education, hospitals and institutions which take the bulk of the state funds.

It doesn't look like these expenses are going to decrease, so the big thing is to try to get full value for our state money.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks, acclaiming "a great job in stabilizing the dollar," said the country was in the midst of a booming economy without parallel in national history. The Census Bureau reported that employment in the United States hit a record high of 62,703,000 in May.

FREEDOM FROM ENSLAVEMENT

The enslavement of man is not legitimate. It will cease when man enters into his heritage of freedom, his God-given dominion over the material senses.

The only freedom worth possessing is that which gives enlargement to a people's energy, intellect and virtue. —Theodore Parker.

Liberty will not descend to a people; a people must raise themselves to liberty. It is a blessing that must be earned before it can be enjoyed. —Anonymous.

The masses must be loved and saved. They can only be saved if powerful, actual standards of excellence are set up before them. —Dr. Charles Malik.

None are more hopelessly enslaved than those who falsely believe they are free. —Goethe

Now more than ever we must keep in the forefront of our minds the fact that whenever we take away the liberties of those whom we hate, we are opening the way to loss of liberty for those whom we love. —Wendell Wilkie.

SAVED BY BRAKEMAN

Reading, Pa. — Seeing Billie Matson, 2, in the path of a freight train, Al Russell, brakeman on the train, managed to reach the child and toss him from the path of the oncoming freight. Billy was unhurt but Russell suffered a broken toe and brush burns.

The most stringent protection of free speech would not protect a man in falsely shouting fire in a theater and causing a panic. —Justice O. W. Holmes.

Showing off may be part of growing up

... but when you're old enough to drive IT'S KID STUFF!

Remember shouting, "Watch, mommy, watch!" and, later, as you hung by your knees or skinned the cat; "Watch this, gang?"

It was a real thrill to do a new trick, and better still when mother praised, or the gang acknowledged.

You expect this of kids. It's part of growing up.

But what do you think of adults who use their cars to show-off—who call attention to themselves by squealing tires, speeding, taking chances, fighting traffic?

Most people say that's kid stuff. Really juvenile. Silly.

They're right. Careless driving is kid stuff. How many lives would be saved—how much sorrow avoided—if drivers would only realize that careless driving is kid stuff—and that care, courtesy, and control at the wheel are the true marks of a man.
